

Smoking Kills

Author/Director: Andrès Jarach

Producer: Quark productions

Country: France

Length: 52'

This documentary comedy shows us that a scientific film can be both funny and effective at once. Thomas B, hardcore smoker, is giving up. He was a heavy but happy smoker will he become a happy non-smoker ?

Through his personal diary, we bare witness to his changing moods. We accompany him on his regular visits to the tabaccologist for practical advise and support and to the labs where nicotine dependency is tested on rats.

Thomas manages to dedramatise giving up with wry humour and pays homage, to his fellow smokers still hooked.
